Bioregulatory Aesthetic Medicine

Bioregulatory Aesthetic Medicine teaches natural techniques for skin rejuvenation that reduce the formation of wrinkles, cellulite, pigmentations, swellings and inflammations. Those techniques also stimulate one's inner capacity to repair damaged tissue and restore its elasticity, firmness and tonicity; giving the skin a healthy and beautiful glow.

The Biofacelift is an authentic technique for Aesthetic Bioregulation, which is formulated by Dr Damir A Shakambet.

By activating homeostasis and removing factors of homeostatic dys-regulation, the Biofacelift achieves combined botox-like and surgical-facelift-like effects, in a safe and non-invasive way.

Biofacelift Treatment

The Biofacelift is a therapeutic method formulated to reduce wrinkles and achieve a radiant facial expression. It removes stressors from facial skin, stimulates cellular enzymes and activates local fibroblasts to increase natural production of collagen.

The Biofacelift treatment combines general detoxifying principles with Acupuncture, Mesotherapy, Massage of facial Musculo-Connective tissue and Lymphatic Drainage.

The treatment may also involve additional therapeutic measures, such as specific diet recommendations and supplementations.

For optimal results, five weekly sessions are usually recommended, with occasional monthly boosters. Each Biofacelift session lasts one hour.

The Biofacelift is a healthy alternative, as well as a complement to surgical aesthetic procedures and botox.

Biofacelift Certificate Course

The Biofacelift Course is established for Health and beauty therapists and aesthetic specialists, who wish to learn new techniques for natural skin rejuvenation. It is an intensive three days certificate course that teaches theory and practice of the Biofacelift technique. The course attracts CPD points.

Treatment Protocol

During this course, you will learn the following techniques for skin rejuvenation:

Facial Acupuncture involves insertion of very fine needles into acupoints. It energises the skin and improves its musculo-connective tonicity, contributing to the regeneration of the skin.

Aesthetic Mesotherapy is a method of injecting complex homeopathic remedies and micronutrients into skin, such as collagen or hyaluronic acid. Those remedies stimulate mitochondria and fibroblasts, which results in increase of collagen production and cellular regeneration. Unlike externally applied creams, which do not cross the skin barrier, Mesotherapy injects therapeutic stimuli directly into the site of metabolic action.

Musculo-Connective Facial Work is a delicate manual procedure that releases increased skin tension and softens the facial lines and wrinkles, contributing to the overall healthy and radiant facial expression.

Lymphatic Drainage Massage helps in removing embedded toxins and metabolic waste, which facilitates rejuvenation of the skin and improves its radiance.
